

EASY RIBBON BOOKMARKS

You will need:

- Ribbon: wider than 1" will work best
- Hair Elastic
- Button
- Needle and thread (unless you have a readily available sewing machine and know how to use it!)

1. Take one end of your ribbon and fold it over your hair elastic and stitch the end down.
2. Measure the bookmark length by placing the ribbon inside your book and wrapping it around the outside of the book until the ends meet, and cut.
3. Fold the raw edge of your ribbon over about $\frac{1}{2}$ inch, and sew it down. (This will prevent the ribbon from unraveling.)
4. Sew your button onto the ribbon end, about 1" in from the end.

5. You're all done! You now have a super nifty bookmark. The further you read, the more the hair elastic will expand to accommodate the pages. Pretty neat, huh?
